

MNA 2022 HOD CE FORUM

LAW & ORDER FOR MICHIGAN NURSES: DOCUMENTATION AND LICENSURE PROTECTION STRATEGIES

October 6th, 2022

2 Contact Hours

2:45-5:00 pm

This live, hybrid continuing education conference session will provide information regarding clinical documentation and licensure protection strategies aimed at mitigating potential nursing liabilities in the case of criminal and other disciplinary issues. Also discussed will be the 5 steps to take using "GIFTS" to create an environment where participants can thrive in their nursing practice. Attending the full live in person/virtual presentation and completing the post session evaluation will fulfill requirements for receiving contact hours for this module.

Featured Speaker:

Lorie A. Brown, R.N., M.N., J.D. has over 40 combined years as a registered nurse and attorney. Ms. Brown who is based in Indiana (currently works from her San Diego, CA office), combines her specialties with a practice of medical legal consulting, representing nurses before the Licensing Board and mentoring others to start and grow their own business. Ms. Brown earned her BSN degree from Indian University school of Nursing, her master's in nursing from the University of California at Los Angeles and her J.D from Indiana University.

To register, scan the QR code or go to:

minurses.org/ceforum

FREE for MNA members and students

$20.00 for non-members

Location:

In-person:

Grand Traverse Resort,
100 Traverse Village Blvd,
Acme Township, MI 49690

Virtual: via Zoom

Session Objectives:

1. At the end of this session, participants will be able to identify 3 of the most common areas where nurses can put themselves at risk for disciplinary actions including revocation of nursing license by the board of Nursing.
2. At the end of this presentation, the learner will be able to verbalize 3 pitfalls to avoid when documenting.
3. At the end of this session, participants will be able to list the 5 steps using "GIFTS" to create an environment where they can thrive in their nursing practice.

For further event information please email ce@minurses.org

Michigan Nurses Association (MNA) is accredited as a provider of nursing continuing professional development by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.